/AB, /XT ABSTRACT: The most common mistakes made in setting up a home office include choosing the wrong location, dedicating too little space and selecting inappropriate furniture. Advice for correcting these mistakes and others is provided.

/LP, /XT, /TX TEXT:
 Just having a home office doesn't ensure that you will like it or even use it. The purpose of a home office is to organize and simplify your life. But if you haven't designed your space to suit your needs and your personality, with the right tools in the right places, you may end up leaving piles of papers, books and magazines strewn everywhere except your home office.

 Research demonstrates that 80% of what we keep we never use.
 Practice the "art of wastebasketry" on a regular basis: Every time you pick up a piece of paper, ask yourself, "What is the worst thing that could happen if I didn't have this?" If you can live with the results, toss it.
